Measurements of the sweater in size XS:

total height: 55 cm

armhole height: 16 cm

low width: 33 cm (36cm after blocking)

total length of handle: 60 cm

shoulder width: 11 cm

BACK :

Chain 70-77-84-91-98 + 1 chain to rotate.

SC 65-72-79-86-93, regularly passing 1 st (5 in all) to give flexibility.

1 row of dc, 1 row of sc, for a total of 61-62-65-65-67-69 rows or 55-57-59-59-61-63cm of total height. Fasten off.

Front :

Chain 70-77-84-91-98 + 1 chain to rotate.

SC 65-72-79-86-93, regularly passing 1 st (5 in all) to give flexibility.

1 row of dc, 1 row of sc, for a total of 57-58-61-63-65 rows or 52-54-56-58-60cm of total height.

Now dc21, ch1, turn, pass 1dc, sc20, ch2 and dc18, ch1, turn, pass 1dc, sc17.

Fasten off when 61-62-65-67-69 rows ou 55-57-59-61-63cm of total height (end with 1 row of sc). Fasten off.

Make the same with second side.

Sew the side seams on 38-39,5-40,5-42-43,5cm and sew the shoulders.

Sleeves :

Begin each lap by ch2 and end by slipstitch 1 in the second ch. This 2 chain substitute the first dc.

Take back underneath the armhole, hooking on the side of the stitches, 1 dc in each side of sc, 2 dc in each side of dc. I got 57 dc in XS-size.

Hook in dc, in round, decreasing 19x1m (20x1m for sizes M and L, 21x1m for size XL) every 2 rows, alternately at the beginning and end of the rows.

Make 5-6-5-6-5-5 rows after the last decrease, then position the work well flat, and mark the 4 middle stitches (5 in S and M, 6 in L and XL) in front of the sleeve (which will form the opening). Make a new lap of dc, make ch5 (ch6 in size S and M, ch7 in size L and XL) above the marked stitches.

Then make 2 more laps of dc by hooking 5,6 or 7 dc in the ch.

Make the edge (see diagram)

Make the second sleeve identical.

Pass :

Make the pass with sc like this:

sc1 in the first st, sc2 in the next one repeat on the back and front

For the sides of the pass, make sc1 in the side of a sc, sc2 on the side of a dc.
